言談理解。

- (B) 1. (A) Get two tickets.
 - (B) Buy some drinks.
 - (C) Wait in line with the woman.

CD:

- 1. M: It's a very long line.
 - W: It really is.
 - M: Why don't you wait here to get the tickets? And I can go get something to drink.
 - W: That sounds great. I would like some black tea with sugar.
 - M: Got it.
 - Q: What is the man going to do?

- (B) 2. (A) It looks dark.
 - (B) It is too expensive.
 - (C) It is not comfortable.
- 2. W: Everything here feels so good. Bright colors, clean tables, beautiful music, and friendly waitresses. What's more, the food tasted good!
 - M: Well, everything should be this good.
 - W: What do you mean?
 - M: A small steak costs NT$5,000, and a cup of coffee costs NT$300.
 - W: What? That is a lot of money. Let's try another restaurant next time.
 - Q: What does the woman think about eating at the restaurant?
- (C) 3. (A) She is friendly to Sherry.
 - (B) She feels happy for Sherry.
 - (C) She doesn't like Sherry's dancing.
- 3. B: Sherry is a dancing queen. She dances the best of all.
 - G: I don't think so. Every other girl in our class dances better than her.
 - B: Come on. Look! She's turning on her toes gently.
 - G: She does that too slowly, and she often jumps terribly.
 - B: Please don't say that.
 - Q: What do we know about the girl?

- (A) 4. (A) Go to the hospital.
 - (B) Call her mother on the cellphone.
 - (C) Keep walking slowly to her house.
- 4. W: It was dark when I walked home last night. I tripped and fell down when I was thinking about the next week's trip. My feet hurt very much. I shouted for help, but there was no one there. I wanted to call my mother, but my cellphone was at home. So, I could only walk slowly along the street. Five minutes later, I saw a hospital. I was really lucky.
 - Q: What was the woman going to do next?

(B) 1. (A) Their orders for food.

(B) Their plans for dinner.

(C) The most famous restaurant in town.

CD:

- 1. M: Let's have dinner at Sandy's Restaurant tonight.
 - W: Well, I'd like to go to Nick's Restaurant for dinner.
 - M: Why? Sandy's Restaurant is nearer to us.
 - W: But Nick's Restaurant looks brighter and cleaner. Their steak tastes more delicious, and the waiters are a lot friendlier.
 - M: You're right. I feel more comfortable there, too. Q: What are the man and the woman talking about?
- (B) 2. (A) He closed his shop.
 - (B) His business is getting worse.
 - (C) Tom and he work together now.
- 2. W: How's your business?
 - M: Not so good. We're making less money.
 - W: Is that because of Tom?
 - M: Yes. He left us, and our business went down quickly.
 - W: What are you going to do now?
 - M: I'm not sure. Maybe I'll ask him back.
 - Q: What do we know about the man?
- (B) 3. (A) He doesn't wear jackets.
 - (B) He likes clothes in dark colors.
 - (C) Bright colors make him happy.
- 3. M: Why are you wearing a yellow jacket and a red skirt?
 - W: Bright colors make me happy.
 - M: Well, not me.
 - W: I know. You only wear dark blue shirts and black pants.
 - M: Yeah. I feel comfortable in those colors.
 - Q: What does the man mean?

- (A) 4. (A) The man does.
 - (B) The woman does.
 - (C) They both cook every day.
- 4. W: Do you cook?
 - M: Yes, I do. I cook every day.
 - W: Really? Isn't it more convenient to eat at the fast food restaurant next to your house? I eat there every day.
 - M: Well, I don't think so. They use too much oil and salt. That's not good for your health.
 - W: You're right. Maybe I should stop eating there and start to cook at home.
 - M: Do it, and you'll eat better.
 - Q: Who cooks every day, the man or the woman?
- (B) 5. (A) My Favorite Zoo.
 - (B) Interesting Animals.
 - (C) Live Longer with Them.
- 5. G: We are playing a game. In this game, we name an animal first. Then we share something important or interesting about it. For example, Daniel said, "An elephant eats leaves," and then Betty said, "An elephant is very strong." Then I said, "An elephant can live for many years!" When everyone finishes, we name another animal and start again.
 - Q: What is the best name for the game?
